We understand King Edward and Queen Eleanor have set out on their royal progress and will arrive in time for the joust tourney called by the Earl of Essex in June! "Let us see what these folk of the West Country can do" quoth the king.

Pittsburgh Renaissance Festival

For its 2015 season, the Pittsburgh Renaissance Festival takes you on a magical tour through time and legend. You'll meet all kinds, from joustiers to jugglers to minstrels to maidens faire, all schooled in the art of interactive theater! Much new entertainment has been summoned by Good King Henry for this glorious season. For six special summer weekends enjoy family fun for children and magical times for adults.

Featuring a cast of hundreds of authentically costumed merrymakers living and working throughout the village and performing continuously upon the Festival's stages, the Pittsburgh Renaissance Festival will create the illusion of a rollicking 16th Century festival day. Impromptu encounters with the royalty and peasantry of Tudor England are commonplace.

As you wander down the village streets and pathways of the Festival, ready thyself to revel with master revelers, watch artisans create original works of their ancient craft and be taken in by the tantalizing aromas of roast turkey legges, steak on a stake, fresh baked goods and much more.

Eat, Drink and Be Merry at the Pittsburgh Renaissance Festival, August 22 through September 27, weekends only! The Pittsburgh Renaissance Festival—It's an Adventure to the Past!

No. 37, Curtis Publishing Co. v. Butts, stems from an article published in petitioner's Saturday Evening Post which accused respondent of conspiring to 'fix' a football game between the University of Georgia and the University of Alabama, played in 1962. At the time of the article, Butts was the athletic director of the University of Georgia and had overall responsibility for the administration of its athletic program. Georgia is a state university, but Butts was employed by the Georgia Athletic Association, a private corporation, rather than by the State itself.² Butts had previously served as head football coach of the University and was a well-known and respected figure in coaching ranks. He had maintained an interest in coaching and was negotiating for a position with a professional team at the time of publication.

Dr. Amor has a lifelong interest in history, particularly the Renaissance. In 1988, he married Patti in a Medieval Ceremony and together they have enjoyed participating in Renaissance Faires for nearly two decades. They were past members of the PA RenFaire cast and now are directors of the Pittsburgh RenFest and the West Virginia RenFest, where they have also portrayed the King and Queen. In his spare time, Dr. Amor likes to tinker with classic cars and read up on historical personas and events. He enjoys working together with patients to address their dental needs. Often patients remark that he is very down to earth and more easy to relate to than the average dentist.
